ADVICE AND SUGGESTIONS

ADVICE FOR CLIENTS IN BARS AND DINING OUT

Keep an eye open for the prices charged. Restaurants, bars and catering establishments etc. must publicly display their prices. This is also the case for hotels and other accommodation structures.

The menu provided must also include the price of each item, including the dishes of the day (piatti del giorno). Counter service is cheaper than table service. There are no cover charges.

You can, if you prefer, order just one course. You are not obliged to consume a full meal. If deep-frozen foods are served, the items must be indicated on the menu (often with an asterisk).

Some wines can be very expensive. To avoid unpleasant surprises, ask for the wine menu to check the prices. In Italy, tips are appreciated but are not obligatory.

Always ask for a receipt or a receipt slip, and make sure the prices correspond to those listed.

If problems arise or there is a dispute, call the Vigili Urbani (local police) at 0667691 and send an email to the consumer protection section of the municipality, tutela.consumatori@comune.roma.it

ADVICE AND SUGGESTIONS FOR SHOPPERS

The prices of articles on offer in shop windows must always be displayed. The prices of articles must always be displayed on all goods, whether small souvenirs, clothing or other products.

The price displayed is always inclusive of taxes.

Always ask for a receipt for all purchases.

The receipt enables you to, in the event, return and exchange goods purchased, if you change your mind and return to the shop within a reasonable period of time.

Please remember that it is strictly prohibited to purchase fake and/or counterfeited goods from street vendors; fines for offenders may be as high as €1.000.

OTHER USEFUL ADVICE

Unfortunately, in Rome, as in other large cities, we must watch out for pickpockets who may take advantage of crowded streets etc.

Please be careful when crossing streets on foot, and always use the zebra crossings.

Rome is made up of charming side streets and alleys which are as fascinating as they are busy and crowded. We recommend public transport for all who wish to visit the city centre.

If you only have a little time but don't want to miss out on anything, we recommend the underground ("metropolitana" or "metro") as a means of transport.

To fully experience Rome, you must respect the essence of this city. If you intend to visit churches or other locations of special religious significance, please remember to dress appropriately beforehand (access to the St. Peter's Basilica, for example, is limited only to people who are dressed appropriately. Visitors wearing flip-flops, or thong footwear, Bermuda shorts and T-shirts, for example, will not be admitted). You should not consume packed lunches, sandwiches or drinks in the vicinity of monuments, fountains or on steps, or in other locations of particular artistic or symbolic interest.

If you follow this advice you will most surely enjoy your stay. If you require any further information, please contact a P.I.T. tourist information point or call 060608. If you encounter problems or note fraudulent practices or if you feel threatened in any way, contact the Polizia (police) or Vigili Urbani (local police). Or ask a passer-by to lend a hand.

Rome is a marvellous city with so much to offer visitors with an interest in art, history and culture. To fully appreciate the city's many treasures, we recommend the services of authorised tourist guides (authorised tourist guides can be recognised by the special ID card they must wear).

ITINERARIES

HISTORICAL AND CULTURAL INTEREST

Rome boasts more than 2,000 years of history. The old city centre is included in the UNESCO World Heritage List. Rome's pride is its heritage of works of art, its museums and galleries and its monuments. One stay in Rome will never be enough to see it all. If you organise your stay accordingly, and have the stamina and determination, you should be able at least to visit the Eternal City's main attractions!

Rome's symbol, the Colosseum is one of the seven wonders of the modern world and one of the most visited monuments worldwide. It was opened in 80 AD for gladiator fights and wild animal hunts held before spectators (Piazza del Colosseo. Opening and closing times: from 8.30 a.m. until 4.30 p.m.-7.15 p.m., according to the season; the ticket office closes one hour before the site closes: €12.00/7.50; reached by the "Metro B" underground line - Colosseo station; for further information, see www.coopculture.it). Nearby is the Roman Forum. The forum was the centre of old Rome's public life from the late 7th century BC for the next thousand years (Largo della Salaria Vecchia, 5/6. Opening and closing times: from 8.30 a.m. until 4.30 p.m.-7.15 p.m., according to the season; the ticket office closes one hour before the site closes: €12.00/7.50, free entry for the young, up to age 18, reached by the "Metro B" underground line - Colosseo station).

For further information, see <http://archeoroma.beniculturali.it/siti-archeologici/foro-romano-palatino>.

Nearby, also, is the truly fascinating Palatine hill. Tradition has it that Romulus founded the city of Rome here. (Via di San Gregorio, 30. Opening and closing times: see times for the Roman Forum; the ticket is jointly valid for the Colosseum, Roman Forum and Palatine Hill; it is valid for two days). On their way to the city centre, tourists absolutely must visit the Campidoglio, the hill hosting the seat of the Mayor of Rome and the marvellous Capitoline Museums (Piazza del Campidoglio, 1; opening and closing times: Tues.-Sun. 9.00 a.m.-8.00 p.m.; 24/31 December 9.00 a.m.-2.00 p.m.; the ticket office closes one hour before the museum closes; closed on Mondays, 25 December, 1 January, 1 May, €9.50/7.50; due to exhibitions or other events, the prices may be modified).

To the north in the heart of Rome's parklands, we have the gallery, Galleria Borghese, which hosts stunning works by Caravaggio and Bernini statues (Piazzale del Museo Borghese, 5; opening and closing times: Tues.-Sun. 8.30 a.m.-7.30 p.m. every 2 hours - with last entrance at 5.30 p.m.; closed on Mondays, 25 December, 1 January, €11.00/5.50 + €2.0 additional fee for booking, obligatory to book, call 06 32810, Mon-Fri. 9.00 a.m.-6.00 p.m., Sat. 9.00 a.m.-1.00 p.m.).

However, for many, Rome is, above all, a symbol of Christianity. The Vatican, Saint Peter's basilica and Castel Sant'Angelo are key attractions for Christians. (Lungotevere Castello, 50; opening and closing times: Tues.-Sun. 9.00 a.m.-7.30 p.m. Closed on Mondays, 25 December, 1 January, €10.50/7.00, ticket office closing at 6.30 p.m.; for further information, see <http://castelsantangelo.beniculturali.it>).

Tradition has it that the Apostle Peter was buried at the site of this basilica. Thousands of the faithful gather here above all on the occasions of papal audiences. Key works of art in the basilica are Michelangelo's statue Pietà and the baldachin by Gian Lorenzo Bernini.

The majestic Vatican Museums and the Sistine Chapel are truly sights in the Vatican City that can't be missed! (Viale Vaticano, 100; opening and closing times: Mon-Sat, 9.00 a.m.-6.00 p.m.; the ticket office closes at 4.00 p.m.; closed on Sundays, except the last Sunday of the month, with free entry, 9.00 a.m.-12.30 p.m.; closing at 2.00 p.m., but not when that Sunday coincides with Easter, 29 June, or 25 and 26 December, 1 and 6 January, 11 February, 19 March, 20, 21 and 27 April, Easter Day and Easter Monday, 1 May, 29 June, 14 and 15 August, 1 November, 25 and 26 December; ticket: €16.00/8.00., reached by the "Metro A" underground line - the Cipro station).

Visitors can't leave Rome without seeing the city's many marvellous museums and galleries (Vatican Museums, Capitoline Museums, Galleria Borghese) and Rome's stupendous squares (Piazza Navona, Piazza di Spagna, Piazza del Pantheon), or her enchanting Baroque churches and fountains (Fontana di Trevi, Fontana del Tritone).

Slightly off the beaten track is the quarter known as quartiere dell'Eur (the Metro B underground line – the Eur Magliana/Eur Fermi/Eur Palasport stations). This quarter is one of the world's key sights for people with an interest in contemporary architecture.

Visitors will most surely also want to take a trip to the Seaside at Ostia (on the Roma-Lido railway line at the Lido Centro stop) and the excavations of ancient Ostia, Scavi di Ostia Antica (Viale dei Romagnoli, 717; opening and closing times: from 8.30 a.m. until 4.00 p.m.-6.15 p.m., according to the season; the ticket office closes one hour before the site closes: €8.00/4.00; closed Mondays, 1 May, 25 December and 1 January; Roma-Lido railway line, Ostia Antica stop). Ostia Antica is a well-preserved city with many mosaics and the remains of frescoes. A further attraction is Julius II's castle, Castello di Giulio II (Piazza della Rocca, 16; opening and closing times: open on Thursdays 11.00 a.m. with security staff guided tours and Sundays with guided tours at 11.00 a.m. and midday, for groups of up to 30 persons per visit; entry is free of charge; closed Mondays, 1 May and 25 December; Roma-Lido railway line, Ostia Antica stop).

For further information on Ostia, see from p. 33 on.

Rome is the city with the most parklands in Europe. This makes it worthwhile to visit one of the city's beautiful monumental villas such as Villa Borghese (Entrances: piazzale S. Paolo del Brasile, piazzale Flaminio, via di Porta Pinciana, via Raimondi and via di Valle Giulia; open from dawn to dusk; "Metro A" underground line – the Spagna station) and Villa Pamphili (entrances: via Aurelia Antica, via Leone XIII, via della Nocetta, via Vitellia, via di Porta S. Pancrazio and largo M. Luther King; open from dawn to dusk).

SHOPPING STREETS

Among the shopping venues with truly 'cult' status, we must mention Via Condotti, Via Borgognona and Via Frattina, and the neighbouring streets at Piazza di Spagna, with their famous jewellery stores, as well as the ateliers of the major Italian and international fashion houses. Not far away, we find Via del Corso and Galleria Alberto Sordi with a variety of shops meeting any number of needs. In Via dei Giubbonari, close to Campo de' Fiori, we find cheaper alternatives to the shops around Piazza di Spagna. We should also mention Rome's many shopping malls in various areas of the city, plus outlets such as Castel Romano, just 15 km south of the Eur quarter, where top fashion apparel can be purchased at the right price.

Rome's most famous flea markets are undoubtedly those at Porta Portese (viale di Trastevere. Open every Sunday from 09.00 a.m. to 2.00 p.m.) and at Via Sannio (open from Monday to Saturday; 9.00 a.m.-1.30 p.m. Closed on Sundays and holidays).

NIGHTLIFE

There are many nightlife areas in Rome. Trastevere, with all the charm of the city centre, with its restaurants, cocktail bars and pubs, is a fine place to meet up for an aperitif, dinner or just a night out on the town, with music for all tastes! But let's not forget the Testaccio district, where the accent is on youth and nightlife. The area boasts restaurants with traditional cuisine, longstanding theatre venues and many discotheques open until the early morning hours. For people who prefer chic elegance and an atmosphere of sobriety and exclusiveness, Via Veneto is definitely the place to be! The street was made famous worldwide by Federico Fellini and his film La Dolce Vita.

WINING AND DINING

Rome's cuisine is noted for its flavoursome simplicity, produced with genuine ingredients from the local countryside, such as abbacchio allo scottadito (lamb straight from the grill) or rigatoni alla pajata (rigatoni pasta with the cooked intestines of the unweaned calf). These traditional folk dishes are favourites among visitors to the Trastevere and Testaccio districts with their many family-run restaurants, known for their cordial and typically Roman atmosphere and clientele.

Roman cuisine has also absorbed the refined nuances of Jewish traditions, so it's well worth visiting the Ghetto to wander about and choose the restaurant (of the many serving Jewish specialities) that attracts you most. There are many places in Rome serving pizzas at the table and, most notably, pizza pieces ("al taglio"). These delicious pizza pieces are very much a Roman speciality!

There are many wine bars in Rome, too. Why not relax and enjoy a glass of excellent wine? Perhaps seated outside in one Rome's truly splendid squares...
